This is my first story so all feedback would be appreciated

Growing up I lived in a small neighborhood where my best friend lived right across the street from me. I found myself over at her house almost every day. She had three brothers but only one that lived with her. He was about five years older than me and I had an innocent crush on him. At the age of 13 my mother got re-married and we had to move 30 minutes away to a bigger house for her new husband and his four kids. I had completely lost touch with my friend until five years later...

When this happened I was about 17, about 5'7 with short brown hair and 36c breasts. One day I had found myself scrolling through my phone when I found her number. I called her and we talked for hours catching up on everything that had happened sinceI moved. We immediatly arranged aweekend at her house so we could catch up.

When I arrived at her house I wasn't expecting her parents to be home so I was wearing some shorts that showed off my perky ass and a low cut tank top. Her parents were not home but her brother was. I knocked on the door and he opened the door. He looked at me like a complete stranger. "Chris?" I said. He had a puzzled look on his face as he said Who are you and how do you know my name? "It's me, Kylie," I said stammering over my words.

His eyes instantly lit up. "Oh my goodness I haven't seen you since you had glasses, braces and pig tails! Time has certainly been good to you," he said as he slowly examined my body.

"Thanks," I said as I blushed. "Can I come in?"

"Sure," he said as his eyes shot back up to mine.

The house still looked exactly how I remembered it. "I'm guessing she's upstairs?" I said in a smart tone.

"Actually she's at her girlfriend's house. I was just watching a movie on the couch. You can join me if you like?" he said seductively.

Who would I be to turn down watching a movie with my childhood crush? There was only one couch so he sat onone end and I sat on the other. The movie was kind of long so I lay down but I couldn't seem to get comfortable.

"You can lay your head on my lap if that would help," he said still glued to the TV. Thinking he was just being nice I slid over and snuggled on his chest about to doze of when a sex scene came on.

I could tell this turned him on. I could feel a hard on growing in his pants as he started breathing heavily and trying to adjust himself. I could feel him gazing over my body. I looked up at him with a shocked look on my face. He took my chin in his hand and started to kiss me with such passion. I was shocked at first then I gave in as he started to stroke my leg. He pulled away from me saying, "Kylie, I've wanted you for so long."

"What about all the teasing?" I said.

"I couldn't let my sister know about me liking you," he said as he begain kissing me some more. We sat there kissing like eternal lovers for what seemed like hours. I was so wet that you could see a wet spot forming on my shorts. I couldn't take just kissing him anymore so I stopped, looked him in the eye and said, "Fuck me please Chris."

"Are you a virgin?" he asked.

"Yes, but I don't care I want you to take it," I said in the most seductive voice I could muster. It seemed that was all he needed to hear.

He picked me up with my legs wrapped around his waist and took me downstairs to his room as I sucked on his neck. I could feel him getting harder as his dick pressed against my shorts. As we arrived to his room he laid me on his bed and undressed me as I undressed him. He gazed at my 36c breasts then he began to suck on them. As he was doing this he began to play with my tiny slit teasing my clit with his thumb.

I moaned as I came near to climax. "Chris, I'm going to cum," I said breathlessly.

"No, not yet," he said as he stopped and pulled his 10 inch dick out of his shorts and put it right at my opening. His dick was so much bigger than the ones I had seen in porn movies. "Are you sure you want to do this?"

A nod was all I could manage to give him. He put the tip of is head in. "This might hurt a little but it's the quickest way to get it over with," he said. Before I could even respond I felt his whole dick being forced inside of me. I tried to scream but nothing would come out. He slowly thrust in and out of me as I adjusted to him being inside of me. The pain turned into pure ectasy.

"Oh, Chris, this I so amazing," I said with lust in my voice.

"You haven't felt anything yet." With that he picked me up facing him with his big dick still inside me. He then began to pund me to the point that I could feel his dick in my stomach. "Oh, FUCK Chris, you're so big! Give me more daddy please!" I said looking him right in the eye. He then began to circle my clit with his thumb while still pumping me. I couldn't hold it anymore. "Chris, I'm gonna cum!" I said in the loudest voice I could muster.

"I am, too, baby! Cum on my dick." With those words I lost it and came all over him which must have sent him over the edge because he sent load after load into my throbbing pussy.

After our orgasms had subsided he lay on the bed as I climbed on top of him laying on his chest. I was about to doze off when I saw his sister standing at his bedroom door...
