To My Wife

By DirtyMartini

Published on Lush Stories on 19 Jan 2010

All stories, poems and plays copyright Alan W. Jankowski.

A love poem...third post from the point of view of my older friend Gary (aka 67Goat)

http://www.lushstories.com/stories/love-poems/to-my-wife.aspx

To My Wife:

Looking back at the time we shared,
Nothing else in my life has compared,
Ever since that day we walked down the aisle,
We have walked together for many a mile,
Joined together hand in hand,
Part of some much larger plan,
You have brought to my world such sheer delight,
Making my time on earth so sunny and bright,
I am so thankful for the time we spend,
Time together I hope will never end,
From the first time I saw your face,
I knew you were my saving grace,
Like a drowning man who's been thrown a rope,
You've provided me such unending hope,
Casting my lonliness to the side,
Never once breaking your stride,
Like a gift from Heaven above,
I'm so thankful for your love,
A true love that will never fade,
I'm thankful for the love we made,
All the times we held each other tight,
Making love with all our might,
A special dance between the covers,
That could only be done by true lovers,
Thankful I have you to hug and hold,

Thankful for the passion you let unfold,
I pray this time with you will never end,
For it is time spent with my best friend,
So thankful for the joy you bring,
Symbolized by a wedding ring,
I know the best is yet to come,
Though we are two, we think as one,
For no matter what the future may bring,
I am proud it is you who wears my ring.

01-19-10.