My Son Enters the Picture

As several months passed, I continued my affair with my daughter. I was making love to both my wife and my daughter and they both knew it. At home, we all acted as if everything was the same as before. The only exception was the whispered conversations between myself and my wife in bed. We both asked each other what we enjoyed about nude massage.

I told her that I loved watching the girls strip for me, especially the new girls. With the new girls, it was a thrill to see a girl I had never met before strip for me. I told her that I loved stripping in front of the girls and showing them my erection, again especially the new girls. I always had an erection and I knew that before very long, the girl was going to touch me and give me a hand job. I told her that I loved stroking their firm young bodies, especially their breasts, and bringing up the their nipples with my hands and then sucking on them. I loved the variety of nipples that I saw, touched and kissed. And I especially loved the sensation when a lady I had never met before finally touched my genitals and got me off. I told her that I often wished I could fuck the girls, but that I never had. I told her that a few of the girl let me finger fuck them and give them orgasms.

I asked her how she felt when the men touched her. She said, "I'm just like you about men I have never met before. I love stripping for them and I love to see them strip. When they take down their underwear, I am always looking at their dick, wondering what this new dick will look like and how big and hard it is. Then when they touch my nipples, I love their reaction because most of them have no idea that a lady my age can have such an intense response when they touch and kiss my nipples. I always get wet, but I've never let them finger fuck me or give me an orgasm. And I love taking them in my hands and watching them shoot." And she told me, "When our shifts overlap, we sometimes offer a mother-daughter massage. We look so much alike that it's obvious that we really are mother and daughter. The guys love it. They get a four-handed massage and the mother-daughter thing turns them on. And we've gotten very comfortable being nude together with one of the customers and watching each other give hand jobs."

About a month after all this started, my wife asked if she could go to one of the parties with myself and our daughter. She had already told our daughter that she knew we were having an affair and asked her if it would be OK for her to come to one of the parties to team up with our daughter. She pointed out to me that if I had the stamina, I could fuck both her and our daughter. I gulped and said OK. So, the next party we went to, I was accompanied by both my wife and our daughter. To me, this was a weird but exciting experience. While I was getting blow jobs from a couple of the ladies, either my wife or my daughter were giving blow jobs to other men.

When they both came into the bedroom that I was using, they both stripped nude immediately. I was already nude. So there I was, exhibiting my naked erect penis to both my wife and my daughter for the first time. Of course, they had both seen it before, stroked it, taken it into their mouths and felt it enter their vaginas. They had both swallowed my semen and felt my throbbing penis erupt in both their mouths and their vaginas. Being nude with these two women was one of the extremely erotic and I felt that they might not even have to touch me to give me an orgasm.

We sat for a few minutes and talked about what had happened at the party. I told them that I had gotten a blow job from the petite young lady who was a trainee at the first party I attended and another from one of the girls that I had seen many times. I told them that I had massages from both of them and the older girl had given me blow jobs before, but that I was really excited to have the petite young lady take me in her mouth for the first time. They told me that my wife had given both the blow jobs, the first blow jobs he had given to anyone but me. My wife said that she loved the feeling of having a new dick in her mouth and swallowing a different man's cum.

Then my wife invited me to fuck our daughter first. She said. "If you don't have the stamina to fuck me here, we can do it later at home." So I made love to my daughter while my wife watched. We did all the love making things. I kissed and stroked her nipples, for example, and pressed my erection against her leg while I stroked her body. I sat between her legs while I stroked her back, then pressed my erection against her glutes and between her legs. She massaged my back and my legs, tickled my scrotum and stroked my penis while I was face down. When I turned over, she sat between my legs, caressed my chest and my penis with her hands, then gave me a body slide, pressing her breasts around my penis, then sliding up so that I could kiss her nipples again. She took me in her mouth for a while before I entered her. When I did enter her, I had an absolutely explosive orgasm. All of this happened while my nude wife watched.

After I recovered for a while, I made love to my wife while my nude daughter watched. We did all the same things that my daughter had done, this time with my nude daughter watching. I had another explosive orgasm.

A few days later, my wife startled me again. She came to me and told me that our son had come to the massage parlor. He was nineteen at the time and so was an adult. She said that one of the ladies had told her that there was a young man in the waiting room, so she had gone to take the massage and was startled to see our son. She said that he was equally startled to see her, nearly nude as she was and she could see his erection starting to form in his pants. She was excited by seeing his erection forming and she got wet immediately. So she took the massage and gave him the same massage she gave everyone else.

She said he was extremely excited and told her how often he had wished he could see her nude and that seeing her in her robe around the house had only whetted his appetite. He told her that seeing her nude and actually touching her body and having her touch his was like a dream come true. Likewise, she had not seen him nude for many years and she was delighted to see what a good looking young man he had become. She said that when she stroked his dick it was like a dream come true for her as well. She loved holding his young dick in her hands and while she watched him shoot his semen all over his stomach and her hands, she realized that he really was a grown man. She said that she even licked a little bit of his semen off her hand to see what it tasted like. I had months ago accepted the fact of what she was doing with other men and was frankly happy for her and for our son.

As the months passed, both I and our son kept going to the massage parlor occasionally and eventually my daughter gave my son a massage. She confided to me that she was really excited being nude with him for the first time and she told me that sometime she wanted to fuck him.

Finally, one night in my wife she whispered to me, "I have started giving our son blow jobs and fucking him. I hope you don't mind. It's as much fun for me as fucking our daughter is for you. I love feeling his dick slide into me. He's got a nice dick, very much like yours." I told her that of course I didn't mind but to follow the same rule and don't tell me when it happens.

This created the situation, of course, that at the next party, I went with our daughter and my wife went with our son. As it happened in the rotation, our daughter gave our son a blow job. Later, while I made love to our daughter, my wife made love to our son in the next room. While we were making love my daughter told me how much she loved finally giving her brother a blow job and swallowing his cum.

Inevitably, at a later party, my wife went with me and my son went with my daughter. This was actually at my daughter's request because she wanted to make love to our son. My daughter confided to me before the party that she had never fucked her brother and that she was looking forward to it. My son went to my daughter's apartment and they left from there while my wife and I left from home.

During the party, when my wife came to my room, she was exultant. She said, "I got to give a blow job to a new guy and then to our son! It was a blast!" Meanwhile, I told her that I had gotten a blow job from a new girl and one of the other girls. We made passionate love while our son and daughter made love for the first time in the next room.
