Luke and I take a quick dip in the pool...

I pushed the dildo into my wet pussy, moving it in and out, imagining it was Luke's big cock. I could hear myself moaning, and hoped nobody else could, especially Luke, my older brother. I pushed it in further than I ever had before, and felt myself about to cum, when I heard a knock on the door. "Soph? Are you ok, I heard moaning?" asked Luke.

I quickly shoved the dildo under my pillow, which only left the fact that I was sitting on my bed naked. "Er just a sec!" I shouted, finding my bath robe, and quickly putting it on, "Yeah Luke, I'm fine," I said, opening the door, finding him standing there in his swimming trunks.

"You coming out for a swim?" he asked, "The waters great, and refreshing!" "Sure, just give me a minute and I'll meet you out there," I said, wishing he would leave so I could finish pleasuring myself.

"Ok," he said, turning round, and leaving me so I could shut the door.

Within seconds I heard him run into the garden and dive in the pool. I could see his six pack, glistening in the sun, with water running slowly off of his abs, threw my window.

I grabbed my dildo, and fucked myself until I came, then I grabbed a bikini, and put it on, going out to the pool to join him.

I bent over by the pool, to pick up one of the towels on the floor. I noticed Luke looking at my tits as I had managed to pick a skimpy bikini, that hung a bit loose when I bent over. I walked to a sun bed just as I saw Luke coming out of the water.

I placed my towel on the bed, and bent over, about to lie on my tummy, and get my back tanned, when I felt Luke lifting me up from behind, his hands wrapped around my waist. He jumped into the pool, still holding onto me.

"Luke!" I said, shocked at two things. The first being that he had dragged me into the pool, when I would have rather made a sexy entrance, and the second being that I could feel him through his shorts, making me wonder if he felt the same way about me, as I did him.

"Soph! I thought you looked hot, so I thought the water might cool you down," he said, suddenly pulling me under.

I opened my eyes underwater, to see him staring at my chest. I pulled myself up, and flicked my head backwards, making sure I didn't have my hair in my eyes.

Luke came up a couple seconds after me, and I couldn't help but stare at his chest as the water rolled off of it.

I turned round, and swam to the end closest to the house. I could see Luke staring at me.

"Can I help you?" I said, winking at him.

"Oh, sorry, I was er looking at the mark on the wall!" he said, blushing, "Er, when did we get that?"

"Hm, my 18th birthday? Yeah, last year, you were 20 then?" I said, looking back at him.

"Oh yeah! Did you hook up with Jamie in the end?" he asked.

"None of your business," I said, thinking back to the wild night I had had.

I climbed over the side of the pool, deciding it was time to dry off.

I bent over and picked up one of the many towels on the floor, making sure Luke got a full view of me as I dried off.

"Soph, the guys are coming over later, I hope you don't mind, I'll try to get them to not bother you," he said looking me in the eyes, his sweet, blue eyes, full of kindness.

"I don't mind Luke," I said, feeling wet, after looking into his innocent eyes.

I turned round and walked to my room, I walked to the bathroom and switched on the shower, thinking it might help me relax and stop thinking about him.

I undid my bikini, and just as I was about to step into the shower, I heard footsteps entering my room...
