This story is about me, a newly qualified English teacher and one of my 18 year old students from Manchester.

I had been tossing and turning all night, I was so nervous about starting my first ever job as a qualified teacher. I was awake about an hour before my alarm so I decided to get up and prepare myself. I took a long hot shower, thinking about what the day would hold. Would the pupils like me? Would the staff like me? Would I be any good at the job?

I got out of the shower, I brushed my curls and let them hang loose over my shoulders, I put on a little make-up, not too much as I didn't want to over do it on my first day. It took me a while to decide what to wear but I settled on my tailor made grey suit, as I knew it showed off my nice round arse and a white shirt that barely contained my breasts. After dressing and checking my self out in the mirror, I was feeling more confident and looking forward to the day ahead.

I arrived at school early, all the staff were lovely. The morning didn't go that well, the girls just wanted to talk about their summer and who was their latest crush and the boys just kept making inappropriate comments about my boobs and ass.

The afternoon didn't go much better either, I thought the last year would be a little more interested with their exams coming up but I was very wrong, they like the rest of the classes had just wanted to sit and catch up with their friends and talk about the summer.

After school I decided to head to the school gym and work off some of the frustrations from the days classes. I got changed into my sports wear which consisted of some tight lycra leggings and a tight fitting t-shirt, both again which showed off my ass and boobs which the pupils had liked so much. I was expecting to be alone in the gym, but when I entered there was a student in there, a lad called Aaron, a young man who apparently loved and excelled at English, although it didn't appear that way earlier in my class.

Aaron was very polite, asking if I was the new English teacher, (even though he knew full well that I was, because he didn't take his eyes off my boobs the whole lesson).

I informed him that I was and that I had heard all about him and his love of English. We chatted for a while about our favorite authors and novels. Half way through our chat Aaron took his top off, as it was so hot in the gym, but it was not from working out because we had both stopped, and were completely wrapped up in our conversation. When he realized what he had done he apologized and asked if it made me feel uncomfortable, but it didn't make me feel uncomfortable at all. I couldn't take my eyes off his muscular, manly body.

We finished up in the gym and both went our separate ways to get changed. When I was coming out of the school and heading towards the bus stop Aaron was at his car and asked me if I would like lift home, so I replied that if it wasn't too much trouble that would be lovely, really I just wanted to spend a little more time with him, even though I shouldn't be.

That night I fell asleep thinking about Aaron, I woke the next morning quite looking forward to going to work, even after my bad start the day before.

But the next day was even worse, all of the pupils played up again for me and Aaron who I thought might actually be able to help me out after our conversation the day before was the worst one out of them all. He was so disruptive I gave him detention and told him to return to my classroom at 3.30.

I was glad Aaron had detention, even though I shouldn't have been I was excited to see him again! The rest of the afternoon dragged as I couldn't wait for the end of the day to arrive.

Then it did, and I heard a knock on the door, I checked my reflection in my mirror one last time after fixing my make up, before placing it back in my bag and shouting for the Aaron to come in. When he entered I told him to take a seat as he did so I locked the door behind him. Even though I suspected I already knew the answer I wanted to hear him say the words, so I asked why he had been playing up in my class that afternoon and his reply confirmed my suspicions, he had done it on purpose so he would get detention and be able to spend more time with me. I liked the answer I got, as I longed to see him and his toned body again, but as his teacher I didn't know how to play it. I could lose my job over this. I decided it would be worth it and told Aaron to remove his shirt, he did as I asked and I couldn't resist touching the body I had been longing to ever since I had seen it in the gym.

I knew the affect this was having on him and this was confirmed when I slid my hands into his trousers and found his cock rock hard. I had to see this as well so I told him to remove his pants also and he did willingly. I couldn't help myself and got on my knees in front of him and took all of his hard cock into my mouth. He tasted so good. I sucked him until he informed me he was about to cum, I stopped just long enough to tell him to cum in my mouth, because I needed to taste him. Within seconds of me saying this he released his warm creamy cum in my mouth and I swallowed every last drop. I got off my knees and kissed him so he could taste himself on my tongue, and as I did this Aaron picked me up as I wrapped my legs around his waist and lay me on the table, I couldn't wait for what was about to come.

He pushed up my skirt and I could feel his cock pressing against my pussy through my panties and he undone my shirt and began to play with my breasts as he kissed his way down my body until he reached my pussy. He then removed my soaking wet panties before teasing me and driving me wild as he slowly slid his tongue up and down my wet pussy lips, before he locked eyes with me and licked two of his fingers making them nice and wet to slide into my pussy. He slide his fingers into me and his mouth closed down over my clit, he finger fucked me for a while as he slid his tongue all over my clit, which sent me over the edge and I tightened around his fingers as my entire body went into an amazing orgasm that seemed to last forever.

He knew what I wanted and needed now and said to me that he needed to fuck me, as he raised his head from my pussy he asked if I was ready for his cock, I was more than ready for him. I told him to fuck me hard until we both came and he did not disappoint. He felt so good stretching my tight wet pussy, as he teased me by first going all the way until and then back out until only his head was left in me, he plunged back in me, slowly building up a rhythm as I wrapped my legs around him, trying to push his cock into me as deep as it could possibly go. He continued to do this until my moaning got louder and I couldn't hold on any longer and I came all over his cock that was still buried deep inside of me. After I had cum he told me he needed release to so I told him to cum in me, I needed him to fill me up. He pounded my pussy hard until I feel his cock stiffen up inside of me as he released load after load of cum in me before collapsing on top of me, his cock still in me until he went limp. As he got off me and sat on a chair I scooped up some of our cum and tasted it, I informed him how good we tasted together and that we had to do this again.

Detention may have been over but the night was just beginning, as we both got dressed and headed back to my place to start all over again.

Since Aaron has left school, I left my boyfriend and we have been dating and fucking ever since.
