

Moonlight Delight (part one)

By JohnC

Published on Lush Stories on 04 Mar 2013

<http://www.lushstories.com/stories/straight-sex/moonlight-delight-part-one.aspx>

Oh hell, another night where I can't sleep, I thought to myself. It was only 2:00 AM and I had woken up several times already.

The ceiling fan above the bed was making little flickers of light as the full moonlight hit the spinning blades. They were not spinning fast, but enough to keep the air moving nicely. Of course all I could think about was the scene from "Apocalypse Now" where he was in the Hotel room in Saigon. What a stupid thing to think about, I laughed at myself. And I then looked around the room. It always looked different at night with the lights off and only the moonlight coming in through the half open blinds.

Suddenly my mental wanderings were brought back to the immediate, Shannon. She let out a little moan and adjusted herself with a half roll, now lying on her back. She was absolutely beautiful in that light. Not that she wasn't all the time, but when she is sleeping and so peaceful, and vulnerable, she turns me on even more.

The blanket had already been kicked to the floor soon after we went to bed, and all that was left was the thin silk sheet. It lay draped across her body partially exposing one of her naked breasts and a shoulder. I could see her nipples clearly as the silk lay across them, and one of her legs was straight while the other was opened and slightly bent. The sight was wonderful.

I rolled over on my side and slowly pulled the sheet down, fully exposing her full round breasts. A lot of larger women have big breasts, but not many have as nice as hers. Hers were not only large, but full, and the placement of her nipples was perfect. Her nipples were slightly larger than a pencil eraser, and her areolas were a bit larger than a silver dollar. Yes, perfect.

Her head was turned to the side, and her shoulder length dark brown hair fell to the pillow, leaving her neck exposed. I love kissing her neck and it always makes her nipples rock hard. So I leaned in and gently kissed her on the neck below the ear. She let out a contented moan. Her neck smelled like the vanilla and coconut body lotion she likes to use, and knows I love the smell of. And I kissed her some more, trying not to wake her, but wanting to enjoy her.

I noticed that indeed my kissing was making her nipples hard, they really stood out in the moonlight. I could not resist. So I began kissing my way down her neck. I kissed where the neck meets her shoulders, and then her shoulder too. I kissed the upper part of her chest where the breast starts to rise, and the smell of her lotion was intoxicating.

I was now almost to her nipple, and I begin to just use my tongue. I gently pressed it into her breast and work in little circles until reached her nipple. I wet my tongue again and slowly worked it around her nipple, barely brushing its hardness. She let out another soft moan. I thenwarpedmy lips around her nipple and gently sucked it into my mouth. It was slightly salty, and that with the smell of her body lotion was wonderful. She then let out a louder moan, and moved her hips in a small gyrating motion.

Oh my God she is so sexy, I thought to myself. My cock began to throb. I then started to suck harder, taking my tongue and pressing her nipple against the roof of my mouth. This was causing her gyrations to intensify, becoming more like little hip thrusts. And I could see her tightening her ass as well.

This was so wonderful, but I had to have more. I being to work my way down her belly with small kisses. I tried to stay away from her sides though, since she is very ticklish and I didn't want her to wake up yet. But even so, her belly began to quiver. This was driving me crazy!

As I neared her chubby mound, I began to faintly smell her womanhood. The mixture of light and clean pussy, with the body lotion was beyond explanation. My mouth began to water in anticipation of what I was about to do. Shannon is completely shaved, and it allows me to really enjoy her completely. And I kept pushing the sheet down, now it was almost to her knees. Her one bent leg offered me a wonderful view of her pussy. She has only slightly visible lips, having the flesh create more of just a slit.

I ran my tongue over the cleft, and gently push it inside. She moaned again and instinctively spread her legs wider. The taste of her pussy was mild but noticeable. And I had to have even more. I very carefully slide down the bed and off of it. Removing the rest of the sheet, I climbed back onto the bed between her legs. And when I got to her knees I began to kiss her inner thighs.

Working my way up to her pussy, I left a trail of pre-cum on the bottom sheet. And w hen I got to where her legs and crotch meet, I took special care to kiss and lick the crease of the leg. I also kissed her ass-cheeks. She smelled like heaven and her hip movements were driving me wild. But I wanted to take my time.

I then ran my tongue up her slit again. This time all the way from her asshole to her clit. She moaned much louder this time, as my tongue brushed over her now hardening clit. I took my fingers and gently parted her lips. The smooth surface of her pussy was beautiful and glistened in the moonlight. I could smell her scent stronger now.

I kissed the smooth area inside her lips, and then took her clit into my mouth. She pushed back against me and moaned again. I sucked her clit and used my tongue to probe the hole. I couldn't help myself, and I moaned with pleasure, sending vibrations into her clit and pussy. She pushed her hips into me more and her hands reached down and touch my head. But I could tell she was still asleep though.

(MORE FOLLOWS IN PART TWO)