Well it was a hot August day a few years ago and my husband, his best friend and I decided to go to a concert. It was 200 miles away but we really wanted to see the band, so we made a nice day out of it, went wine tasting and had a nice dinner along the way.

We finally arrived at the concert around 6:30 and it started at 7 so perfect timing we danced had some beers and really enjoyed the show.

It ended late, it was around 10:30 and we were all too exhausted to drive back, so we all decided just to get a room. My husband and I would get our own room and he could get his but all the rooms were booked, so we checked like four different hotels and all were booked before we found one that had a room available.

Problem was, they only had one room available with one king size bed so we decided that it was fine, I could sleep in the middle. This was my husbands best friend of 20 years, so we trusted him very much.

We got in the room and got organized. I found a t-shirt in the trunk of the car and some very tiny shorts which I could put on. We didn't pack anything because we didn't know we were staying the night. My husband and his friend stripped to their boxers, no biggie. They got in bed and covered up while I was changing.

So, I came out of the bathroom and got in between the two them and turned sideways towards my husband to sleep. My husband was already sleeping. He was snoring very loudly. He is a deep sleeper, not even a jack hammer would wake him up in the morning but I'm used to his snoring now.

I was lying on my side, facing my husband but couldn't fall asleep for some reason. After about ten minutes went by, I suddenly felt a hand on my ass and it wasn't my husbands.

My husband's best friend was starting to rub my ass and I was thinking, "What the fuck is he doing?"

He turned sideways behind me facing my back he must of thought I was asleep or something cause he was really groping my ass on the outside of my shorts so now I have my husband snoring in my face and this guy groping my ass and I didn't know what to do.

I decided to let him grope me, thinking, "Ok, he will stop in a minute."

But was I so wrong. He pushed my shorts over a little and started rubbing my clit! I was getting wet but trying not to but I was getting tingly down there and he really knew how to rub a clit. I felt so bad! I'm a married woman but this was feeling way too good but I had to stop him.

All of a sudden his finger went inside me and he was rubbing my g-spot really firmly. I was so wet and he definitely knew what he was doing. He then took his finger out and put his hand under my shirt. I wasn't wearing a bra and he was pinching my nipple, getting it rock hard.

I thought to myself, "He either thinks I'm still sleeping I guess, or he has a lot of guts!"

I was still thinking, "Ok, this feels good but he will stop here shortly."

God, I was so turned on. He proceeded to get back to my shorts and oh shit, he started sliding my shorts down until they were around my thighs. I was so wet and all of sudden I could feel his hard cock rubbing around my pussy.

He was rubbing his cock on my area where it was so wet, getting his dick lubed up for me. I take it he then slid his cock in me slowly but went in pretty easy cause I was overly wet and he was huge! He got it all the way and started fucking me with light strokes. I was so turned on by this man fucking me, while my husband was lying there, asleep.

My legs were closed, as I was lying sideways, so my pussy must have felt really tight to him.

Finally, I thought to myself, "Fuck this, I wanna fuck! This is so wrong, but that makes it so fun, my sex life has become so boring anyway."

I started to move my hips back and forth with his motion and started rubbing his balls with my hand. He was slowly thrusting into me. I was biting my tongue because didn't want to wake hubby up, just in case. Like I said though, he is a heavy sleeper. I decided to lie on my back so that he knew I wanted this. I took my shirt off and he slid my shorts completely off me.

He got on top of me. He was so aroused and really rough. He started sucking my nipples so hard it actually hurt but I had to be quiet. He must have had a breast fetish. He destroyed my tits for about 15 minutes, sucking and squeezing on them. It was painful, but in a good way the way. He was biting them so firmly and he really sucked hard on them too. I knew I was going to have some hickeys there the next day.

He shoved his cock in me and slowly started pumping hard. Wow, his cock must have been 9 inches, or more. I had never felt a cock so big and with so much girth. It was really hurting good but my pussy would adapt, I hoped and my legs were wrapped around him. He was holding me down by my hair, sucking on my neck, shoving his tongue in my ear and licking all over my face. He was aroused, his cock was SO throbbing in me!

My husband was still snoring away, as I got on top of our friend, backwards, cowgirl-style, so he could rub and look at my ass. He was spreading it apart and squeezing it, as I was slowly riding him. Then he stuck his finger in my ass! It felt so good, a cock in my pussy while my ass was being fingered. All of a sudden, I could tell I was going to orgasm. I started thrusting on his huge cock harder until I came. Wow it was so good!

I then moved down to his cock and started stroking it and sucking on his balls. I then started sucking his massive cock while he was squeezing my tits once again. He exploded the biggest load I had ever had in my mouth. It kept cumming and I thought it was never going to stop.

There was so much cum it was running down my chin and I still had a mouth full. I had to double swallow it seemed like but one thing I didn't know was that he could keep going, right after he came. He had me keep on sucking his cock and I did and after about five minutes, he shot another huge load. Now I just swallowed two huge loads in less than ten minutes.

Finally, we were done and my husband was still sleeping. I felt kinda guilty, so I went under the sheets and started sucking on my husband's cock. He woke up, how I don't know and his friend acted like he was asleep. My husband was getting off on me sucking him, with his friend lying there. My husband finally shot his load in my mouth and I took care of him well, to make up for me being such a very naughty girl.

All in all it was great experience and so arousing. I was never caught out about the situation and it was one fun night.
