It all started very innocently, I stopped in to the local XXX theatre on my way home and quickly found a seat just off to the side of the almost empty theatre. As I sat down and pulled my zipper down I could feel his hand. The theatre was very dark and my eyes still had not adjusted. All I know is that it was the beginning of a wonderful bisexual relationship with a very hot and horny and sexy older man. He gently pulled my cock out and leaned over to kiss, lick and suck it. I instinctively pushed down on his head to take more of my cock in his mouth and when he had it all the way in, I gave him the first of many cocktails of the night. I can still feel his mouth on my cock, a real pro!! Little did I know that the best was yet to cum!!! As the movie played and he continued to suck my throbbing cock, he looked up and asked me if I wanted to go to his apartment a few blocks away. Well it didn't take long to agree and we started to walk to his place. While we were walking, he told me how much he loved the feel and taste of my cock and he wanted more. I assured him there was plenty more of the same and when we got up to his place, we proceeded directly into his bedroom. I remember the great view outside his window and then he asked me if I would wear something for him and he held out a pair of black fish net stockings and a pair of silk bikini panties. I had never tried on stockings or panties before but it sounded pretty hot. Without hesitation, all my clothes were off and I started to dress for him. He offered me a drink and then we went back to the bedroom where by now my cock was ready for another workout. He asked me to stand in front of him and play with my cock. No problem, by the way, when you're in your late twenties, this is only the beginning of a long, lustful and completely satisfying night. I was ready to feed him again when he asked me to stand over him on the bed and lower my cock into his waiting mouth. He sucked while I fed him all that I had. He licked and sucked and nibbled up and down my shaft, making me as hard as I've ever been. We both had another drink and then he asked if I wanted to do a popper. I told him I had never tried it but was open to just about anything. If you've never done it, you sniff it and it produces an instant high and gives you a warm tingling feeling over your entire body. We did one, then another and it was time to get back to bed. I laid down on my back and he straddled me and proceeded to suck me like I've never been sucked before. I wanted more and I wanted him to suck harder and squeeze my cock and nibble and lick and then after what seemed like an hour(it was probably 30 minutes) I wanted him to nibble and bite my cock and lick and suck and suck and suck. After about another 20 minutes, I exploded another cum cocktail into his hungry and willing mouth with the force and intensity of a fire hose. Then we took a break. had another drink and some more poppers and then I cut a hole in the panties and stockings to let my cock just hang out for him while he did his thing on me. Neither one of us could get enough!!
