If only you could see my beloved You would perceive my joys If only you could witness my mate You would see the personification of beauty If only you could watch us for one hour You would feel me melting inside As I love and love my lady Her brown hair is parted in the middle And it flows down past her shoulders Her green eyes are filled with love A love for me that seems eternal The sweet lips on her mouth Whisper my name, Enosh And then she has me for the night Her bosom is a heaven Olive in color Youthful Lovely & Inviting Soft & Delicate Comforting Her slender hands hold onto mine As my eyes adore her flawless breasts Which are ornamented With fine round areolas With nice thick nipples As she sits on the bed And I am on the floor Lost in the scene of her bosom She has a lovely smile And it invites me to taste her nipples Worshiping them with my lips and tongue Tori's fingers gently caress My neck and my cheeks While I am content with her bosom Between her smooth thighs Are the lovely gates To an abyss of pink rose Wherein are a thousands joys But tonight I am not concerned With entering that place All what I want is to adore Tori And cuddle so close with her In each other's arms And bodies together I merge into my beautiful mate So one pointed Everything else vanishes O how much I love her How much I love her...
