I would like to thank HK for his insightful words of wisdom and more importantly his friendship. Like a dream it was something beyond me, breaking my barriers Escaping the binds that hold me I was numb and lonely, waiting for you Empty days, longing to be filled Struggling to break the surface, My heart could barely breathe Aching to give myself openly Once in the dark, now awake It's you that I've dreamed of since that day Turning the page, it's a new chapter Opening my eyes, I see a bright future Moving out of the shadows of doubt, A distant light draws me near Casting away all my fears A connection deepens, I'm lost in your words Expressions of lust hard to ignore A feeling overwhelmed my soul, Thoughts escaped me Opening my mind to endless possibilities Pleasure and certainty, exhilarate my mind The sweet taste of desire Pure and defined Drowning in waves of emotion, I surrender my senses through and through The craving of everlasting passion with you Better than a memory, sweeter than a dream, A bittersweet fantasy
