

Don't Tell Me You Love Me

By Aletheia

Published on Lush Stories on 20 Jan 2013

Keeping things real.

<https://www.lushstories.com/stories/love-poems/dont-tell-me-you-love-me.aspx>

Don't tell me you love me. Don't toy with my head. None of this is real. It's all just pretend. We'll never meet. We'll never touch. We'll never have more Than this long-distance lust. We'll talk on the phone. I'll giggle, you'll laugh. But this kind of fun Is not meant to last. Let's have our good time And enjoy what we do. Your needs will be met And mine will be too. You want more of me. I want you more too! But don't tell me you love me. For that just won't do.