I Crave...you, just YOU! I crave your words on my screen I crave the tingling feeling I feel for you I crave the sight of your green eyes focused on mine I crave the sound of your voice close to my ear I crave to hear your laughter when we are together I crave thoughts of you floating in my head I crave the warmth of your touch I crave the scent of your skin I crave your hardness pressed against my body I crave your body, mind, and soul I crave for the day we fall in love Most of all I crave you..just YOU!
