When you cannot escape your pain

When you believe no more

When hope has been slain

And you're shaken to your core

I can be the lifeline you need

A stable heart to lean on

A lullaby that soothes you back to sleep

I'll stay through to dawn.

If you can't breathe

And feel as though you're being ripped in two

Just call on me

I will see you through

I can be the lifeline you need

A stable heart to lean on

A lullaby that soothes you back to sleep

I'll stay through to dawn.

I can be your lullaby

As you fight your demons and past

With me love is all you'll find

No matter what happens, that will last.
