

Until we meet again

By xbob

Published on Lush Stories on 11 Feb 2010

<https://www.lushstories.com/stories/love-poems/until-we-meet-again.aspx>

The first time I saw her

And I looked into her eyes,

I found myself hoping

That there were no other guys.

The second time I saw her

We went out on a date.

I thought about that first kiss

And found I couldn't wait.

When we met for the third time

I took her to my bed.

And when the night was over

I felt, this one I could wed.

And when that day came
That I took her for my wife,
I made myself a promise,
That it would be for life.

Life has not been perfect
Sometimes it's a struggle
The thoughts that Lush gives me
Leaves my mind in a muddle.

But in the end I decided
That I must make amends
So now I must leave you
For to my wife I must attend.

I really hate to leave here
You have all been so great
But I must do this now
Before it is too late.

Maybe I'll be back someday

It's really hard to tell

But until that time comes

I must say farewell.