It all began with one of the talks my husband and I have. We like to have a couple of drinks and sit around and talk about different sexual experiences we've had. One night he brought up threesomes and for some reason this just stuck in my head because the next weekend... We were at a work conference for my husband at some posh hotel. He was talking to some of the guys he worked with and I found myself just people watching when this woman across the room caught my eye. She was starring directly at me and had a sly looking smile on her face. She was beautiful, long brunette hair and petite. She was wearing a small black dress that showed off her perfect figure and ample breasts. I smiled back and was really intrigued by the way she was looking at me. I couldn't stop myself from looking in that direction more often than I should and when I did her eyes were always on mine and she was always smiling at me. I've never been attracted to a woman before but there was just something about her and the more I would look in her direction the more I began to feel an urge arise between my legs. When my husband left the table to get us another round of drinks, I looked in her direction again but she was gone. I was completely deflated. Then I heard a female voice ask if she could join me. As I turned around...I was so excited to see it was her. She introduced herself as Megan and sat down. We started out with small talk...she was there for sales, I explained I just came with my husband for a little mini vacation. When my husband came back to the table with my drink, I introduced him to Megan. He asked if it was okay if he went off to talk with some clients and asked Megan if she would stay and keep me company. Megan quickly agreed and said she would enjoy the company also. As my husband turned to leave he gave me a kiss and raised his eyebrows at me. I just smiled and shooed him off. As Megan and I sat and talked it was like we were old friends, and the more we drank the more the conversation got personal. I noticed that she began touching me more and more, a brush against my arm, then putting her hand on my thigh, which really was beginning to arouse me. So I began doing the same back to her. I could just feel the electricity in the room every time we touched and then she asked the question, "Have you and your husband ever had a threesome before?" "No," I answered. "Have you?" She said, "No, but I am willing if you are." So Megan and I made some plans for later that evening and here is how they went... When my husband returned to the table it was about 10:00pm. He asked if I was ready to head back up to the room and I was. We said good-night to Megan and we headed upstairs. When we got back to the room I suggested he go take a long hot shower because he just loved the shower in this hotel. When he came out of the shower he found Megan and I sitting there waiting for him. I stood up and went to him and asked, "Is it okay if Megan stays for a while?" smiling at him sheepishly. "Of course," he replied. I took his hand and led him to the bed and had him lay down. I then crossed the room and took Megan by the hand and led her to directly in front of the bed. As we stood in plain sight of my husband I turned Megan around and began to un-zip her dress. Then I took my hands and put them on her shoulders and slowly slid the dress off her shoulders, then pushed it down past her hips where it fell to the floor. There she stood with a black lace bra and matching thong on (which my husband loves). She then turned and slid my dress off and we both smiled because I was wearing a black lace bra and matching thong, also. I turned to look at my husband to see his reaction and he gave me the go ahead nod. I took a step closer to Megan and our breasts pressed against each other which made my pussy instantly wet. I so badly wanted to put my hand down between her legs and stick my fingers in between her lips to see if she was as wet as I was but I didn't want to rush things. I began feeling Megan's hands caressing my body. I then felt her mouth on mine and her gently pushing her tongue in my mouth. It was the most erotic feeling. I felt like I had no control over myself. I have never been with a woman before and usually the thought gave me the heebie jeebies but standing there feeling her soft body under my hands was unbelievable. We finished removing each other's under garments and I felt her mouth go from my mouth down my body and find my nipple, where she began softly biting and sucking on it and then she had the other one in between her fingers pulling and pinching it. I was dripping wet now and could feel it running down my inner thigh. I heard my husband moan softly knowing what ecstasy I must be in. I willed myself to pull away from Megan and looked at my husband laying there with his dick so hard. I motioned for him to come to us. He got up off the bed and came and stood in between Megan and me. We both went down to our knees and began taking turns sucking on his rock hard dick. After about 10 minutes he pulled away from Megan and me and took my hand and led me to the bed where he laid me down. He then looked at Megan and said, "I want to watch you eat my wife's pussy." Megan came to the bed and my husband spread my knees apart and watched as Megan slid her fingers in and out of my very wet pussy. I was moaning so loudly that I am sure the room next to us heard but didn't care, it felt so good! She then took her tongue and began swirling it around my clit, then licking and sucking the juice from inside me at the same time my husband was sucking on and pulling at my nipples, I screamed "Yes, Yes" as they made me cum like I never had before! "Touch her," I told my husband as I lay there trying to recover from the major orgasm I just had. I watched as he and Megan's mouths met and began to explore each other...I was getting so turned on watching him force his tongue in her mouth and seeing her accepting it. His hands began to explore her body. His mouth went down to her breast and he started sucking on her nipples which made her say softly, "Oh yes, don't stop". As I watched his hand start to slide down to her pussy, I stopped his hand because I wanted to be the first to feel how wet she was. I laid her down on the bed. Spreading her legs I put my fingers between her legs, spread her lips and was so pleased to see that she was as wet as I was. Sliding my fingers in and out of her she began pushing against my hand...I removed my fingers and put them up to my husband's mouth where he began sucking on them. I leaned in and kissed him passionately tasting the sweetness of Megan in his mouth. I took Megan, turned her over and put her up on her knees. "Fuck her," I said to my husband. "I want to watch you fuck her." My husband came up behind Megan and slowly slid his dick inside of her....she moaned in ecstasy. He grabbed her hips and began pulling her back into him over and over. I slid under her because I wanted to taste more of her and began licking and rubbing her clit. I knew she was about to cum. "Harder," I told my husband while rubbing her clit faster. She came like a freight train was going through her. Watching my husband's dick slide in and out of her turned me on so much I needed to feel him inside of me. I climbed up next to Megan on my hands and knees and looked back at my husband. I watched him pull out of Megan and get behind me, he teased me by just putting the head of his dick in me then pulling it out. He kept doing this until I begged him to be inside of me, when he slid his dick in me it was hard and forceful and felt so good. He then started going back and forth between Megan and I, both of us moaning and whimpering for more. When I heard that familiar moan my husband gets right before he cums I turned and put his dick in my mouth and sucked him deep until he came in my mouth. Megan grabbed me and began kissing me, swirling her tongue in my mouth sharing my husband's wad that he released there. We said good-night to Megan, thanking her for everything. As soon as the door latched behind her my husband grabbed me, threw me down on the bed and we made love alone together. As we laid there completely exhausted he said, "Thank you," then asked, "Was that for me or for you?" I just smiled.
