Hot Julie goes for more sex with Dave after her fiance leaves the house for work

My wife Julie recently gave me some details of an encounter she'd had with our "extra guy" after our first threesome with him. The morning after our get together she heard me drive out the driveway going to work and she padded, mostly naked, upstairs into Dave's room. She told me she slipped under the covers, licking and kissing his cock until it was hard, then she started sucking. It struck me as very cool that my fiance liked sucking my neighbor's cock so much. She had never even had a conversation with him. I spent over two years chatting her up around campus and courting her before finally getting into her pants. She licked and sucked his cock until he woke up. He threw the covers back to watch her give him his third blowjob. She said Dave asked her if she was sucking his cock because she was mad at Ward (me, her fiance at the time). She said "If you think that's why I'm here then I'll leave right now." Well, he kept his mouth shut after that and just enjoyed her sucking his cock again after our threesome a few hours earlier. He got up to take a piss and she waited. "I felt like a real slut then," she said. He came back in the room, got under the covers, got on top of her, and they fucked. She said she "felt pressed down, down, down, into his mattress." He stood up beside the bed and she took his cock in her mouth. It filled with a rush of his semen for the third time that night. After that, he led her around his bedroom having sex everywhere. She said he took her over to a small table in his room and had her sit up on it, with her cunt at the edge; then he stood there and proceeded to fuck her tight little pussy while she leaned back on her hands; she hooked her heels behind his thighs. With her bare ass on that hard table she says "I pulled him into me with my legs, over and over." After a good long stretch of that he pulled his hard cock out of her and told her to "suck it." "I got on my knees and sucked him some more," she told me, "then he took me over to a chair and sat down. I sat on his lap and fucked him." She did that for a while facing away from him and then stood and turned around to face him, put her tits in his face, and guided his hard cock into her wet pussy. She stroked herself up and down on Dave's stiff cock using her knees and thigh muscles. She says they were clutching and sweating in the semi-dark and she was inspired to plead with him: "Cum in my pussy, cum in my pussy!" Dave sprayed another big load up into Julie's warm, juicy cunt. At that point he told her, "Wow, that's a record!" Dave was forty-some years old, and was pretty happy with this young woman, fifteen years his junior. After that, they moved from the chair over to his bed to cuddle and spoon together in the dim morning light. Julie mentioned that Dave's cum was leaking from her pussy; it ran across her thigh. She was loving it. Almost right away, Julie started giving him another blow job, just because she wanted to, thinking that if he was keeping count of his orgasms then she was challenged: Could she give him one more? She sucked on Dave some more, and yes, he came in her mouth again! "Another record!" he hollered. They snuggled some more and then, because I had mistakenly taken her car keys with me to work, Dave gave her a ride across town to her office at the University. She worked all day smelling like sex, with the taste of cum from Dave and me in her mouth. Later that day Dave and I laughed a little over the previous night events. "Is your cock sore?" "Yeah." "Mine too." Julie had been insatiable.
